

March 27, 2020

Dear Hampstead Staff Members,

In light of the recent extension for remote instruction from the Governor, we'd like to extend the opportunity for staff members to retrieve personal items and instructional materials from school buildings. We've scheduled Tuesday, March 31st as the pickup day. It is imperative we continue to practice safety protocols to prevent exposure and spread of the virus, thus we ask you to submit a list of items you would like to retrieve to your building principal no later than Sunday, March 29th at 6pm. This timeframe will allow designated staff members to collect these items for you. Your building principal will then provide you with specific instructions for picking up your items at the school.

We can't express enough our gratitude and support for the work which continues during this difficult time. We understand firsthand the added pressures to provide remote instruction and/or school business from home while also managing our households. We are confident that when this is all over, we will walk away better educators, better supporters of education, and better people overall, with each of us sharing in the success of our efforts.

We hope to see you soon.

Sincerely,

Dr. Earl Metzler,
Superintendent of Schools

Michael Flynn,
Executive Director of 21st Century Learning,
Assessment and Technology