April 10, 2020

Dear Hampstead school community,

We are excited to share about an upcoming initiative, Pause from Remote Instruction, which will be held on Tuesday, April 14th from 1pm to 3pm. Partnering with our Parent Teacher Student Association (PTSA), this event will serve as an outdoor open house where staff and students can reconnect while still practicing social distancing. Staff members will station themselves around their school's parking lot for students and their families to conduct a drive through to see their teachers and staff members. Greatest caution will be taken to ensure both students and staff members remain safe. Those details will be provided to all the participants prior to the event.

I'd like to commend our incredible school community again for understanding the importance of staying connected. Our staff members miss seeing their students and, we are most certain, our students miss seeing their teachers and educational supports. This gesture will serve as an opportunity to foster and maintain positive social connections between the two. Though this initiative is optional for both staff and students, we are expecting a high level of participation.

Supporting one another is what we are about. Thank you Hampstead School Community!

Sincerely,

Dr. Earl Metzler,
Superintendent of Schools
