

How CCLC is Funded

Simplified Version

Americans are required by law to pay federal taxes, such as individual income taxes, payroll taxes, and corporate income taxes, as well as excise taxes, estate tax, and other taxes & fees.

The United States Congress allocates tax dollars. Included is funds to the United States Department of Education for the 21st Century Community Learning Centers program.

The United States Department of Education divides the program funds between the states. The funds are then distributed to each state's department of education.

In each state, afterschool site programs compete for funds through grant competitions. Funds are awarded based upon which site programs demonstrate the greatest need and secure 1:1 matching contributions.

To remain eligible, site programs must adhere to the regulations set forth by federal and state law. <https://www2.ed.gov/programs/21stcclc/index.html>
