This Acceptable Use Policy (AUP) governs all electronic activity of employees using and accessing the district's technology, Internet, and data systems regardless of the user's physical location.

Guiding Principles

- Online tools, including social media, should be used in our classrooms, schools, and offices to increase community engagement, staff and student learning, and core operational efficiency.
- QPS has a legal and moral obligation to protect the personal data of our students, families, and staff.
- QPS should provide a baseline set of policies and structures to allow schools to implement technology in ways that meet the needs of their students.
- All students, families, and staff must know their rights and responsibilities outlined in the Acceptable Use Policy and government regulations.
- Nothing in this policy shall be read to limit an individual's constitutional rights to freedom of speech or expression or to restrict an employee's ability to engage in concerted, protected activity with fellow employees regarding the terms and conditions of their employment.

Compliance Requirement for Employees

Communication & Social Media

Employees and students may be provided with district email accounts and online tools to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of communication, both within the organization and with the broader community. Communication should be consistent with professional practices used for all correspondence. When using online tools, members of the QPS community will use appropriate behavior:

- a) when acting as a representative or employee of the QPS.*
- b) when the communication impacts or is likely to impact the classroom or working environment in the QPS.*

All communication sent by an employee using district property or regarding district business could be subjected to public access requests submitted through Freedom of Information Act (FOIA). Users need to be aware that data and other material/files maintained on the school district’s systems may be subject to review, disclosure, or discovery. Use of personal email accounts and communication tools to conduct school business is strongly discouraged and may open an individual’s personal account to be subject to FOIA inquiries. QPS will cooperate fully with local, state, and federal authorities in any investigation concerning or related to any illegal activities or activities not in compliance with school district policies or government regulations.

Guidelines for Online Communication

- Communication with students should not include content of a personal nature.

- When communicating with parents/guardians of students, employees should use email addresses and phone numbers listed in the Student Information System (SIS) unless steps have been taken to verify that the communication is occurring with a parent/guardian that has educational rights for the student.
- When communicating with a parent/guardian, refrain from discussing any non-related students when possible.
- Employees who use internal or external social media (blogs, Twitter, etc.) are expected to refrain from discussing confidential information and/or discussing specific students. Information that can be traced back to a specific student or could allow a student to be publicly identified should not be posted on any social media sites.
- When using social media, employees are expected to refrain from posting any negative comments online about students.
- Employees are strongly encouraged to notify their principal before setting up an online site to facilitate student learning. Employees are encouraged to monitor/moderate online communication to the best of their abilities.
- Employees may communicate with QPS graduates (+18 years old) on social media but should be advised to maintain professionalism and caution when communicating online.
- Employees who add parents/guardians of students as ‘friends’ or contacts on social media must maintain professionalism to avoid any appearance of conflict of interest.
- Avoid responding to spam or phishing attempts that require a user to click on any links or to provide any account information. Note: QPS will never ask for a user’s account password for any purpose and users are advised to report any suspicious requests for account information directly to the QPS I.T. Staff.

QPS staff and students must comply with regulations on copyright plagiarism that govern the use of material accessed through the QPS network.
